

EASILY SUBMIT AND TRACK precertification requests

Spend less time on the phone or printing and faxing paperwork by submitting your patients' precertification of coverage requests online. You can receive an immediate answer in some cases, and can also view the status of all of your requests online.

Get answers fast

- Learn if precertification is required for a particular covered medical service.
- Submit and check the status of precertification of coverage requests for:
  - Inpatient medical services
  - Certain outpatient medical services, when required
  - Injectable medications, when covered under the medical plan
- Get an immediate response and tracking number for all your precertification of coverage requests – some may get immediate approval. You will receive one of these responses:
  - Service does not require precertification of coverage
  - Approved
  - Pended (This response includes the reason the request is pended and a tracking number for future inquiries. Requests are reviewed within five business days or sooner if required by state or federal law.) For more complex medical services, you may be asked to submit additional clinical information. If your precertification of coverage request is denied, you will receive notification, including the reason for denial and how to appeal the decision.
- Print responses for your patient records.

Check the status of your request any time

No matter how you submit your precertification of coverage request – online, by fax, or by phone – you can view the status of a previously submitted request online using the precertification tracking number or patient name.

Note: Online precertification is currently not available for behavioral health, substance abuse, or dental requests. If precertification of certain services is delegated to a third party (such as high-tech imaging), you will be directed appropriately.
